

SEEN, HEARD AND TOLD

By W. W. WHITAKER
When he feels like it.

(By Mrs. WWW)

"How is Whyte getting along?" is just about the first question asked us every morning. Some times we say he is better, sometimes we say Whyte is slowly improving, and sometimes we say Whyte is nervous today. All of these answers are sincerely given to our friends who sincerely ask about him. We do appreciate your interest and ask that you keep on asking until we can answer, with a song in our hearts, that "Whyte is about well." Pray that day will soon come.

Whyte wishes to thank Col. (Dr.) Percy Duggens of Arlington, Va. for a letter written early this week and too, for his renewal to the GCW. Thanks, especially, for the words of encouragement, Colonel.

A flower to the living:— We wish to add our bit to the nice things being said of Mrs. Ethel Townes, who on last Sunday presented an air-conditioning system to the First Presbyterian Church, as a memorial to her late husband, Ben W. Townes. Ethel is a gracious lady, kindly and intelligent, capable and practical. She always seems to do and say just the right thing. We, with her other friends, give her a standing vote of confidence and thanks for being such a sincere and may we add, attractive person.

The McQuay Plant, located South of Grenada is rapidly taking the shape of a huge industrial building. The water tank, painted with aluminum, is a thing of beauty. Part of the front buildings appear to be 2-stories high. This plant will bring a lot of wealth to Grenada.

McQuay, Inc. will take care of themselves. Being good businessmen as they must be, they will appreciate the GOOD, not CHEAP labor here in Grenada.

Recently, in talking to a young attorney, about current rumors concerning a court house occupant, (and not saying the rumors are true, because we do not know that they are) he, (the young attorney) said: "Well, Grand Jury meets the 4th Monday in July, (25th), if any one knows of an irregularity, let them go to the grand jury. I 'figger' that's pretty good advice.

Whyte, who used to be in politics in Beat 5, would often comfort me with, "Do not mind the dogs who bark back in the bushes. Worry only about the one that comes out and bites.

See where the VFW and Grenada have selected Bill Morris to head the local civil defense, and where Winona has selected Randy Holladay to head their civil defense program. Both are good selections.

With a new moon making its first appearance on July 19th, the rain seems to have slackened off. We farmers were about to get more rain and boll weevil than we needed. Today, Wednesday, is a hot and humid day, good for cotton and hard on boll weevils and folks, generally.

Just Film' up Space — By Andrew — Mr. Hemphill used to be Mr. Whitaker's "Watermelon King", but now our Watermelon King is Bulon Worsham on Route 4. Thanks, Bulon, the melon was about as good as we have every eaten.

Remember Candidates: — You will (unless some of you move) have to live here in Grenada County together. SO, keep your individual races as CLEAN and as above-board as possible!

Not saying who I am voting for in the Governor's race — my prediction is that Johnson and Wright will be in the run-off.

You will find my sheriff's prediction on page

[In a lot of races, the best man for the job will not be elected. But, that's all right]

VOTERS: Don't Believe all of the last-minute rumors you hear!

About the two hottest races to date are: The Circuit Clerk's race, and J. P. — Beat One.

While you are in the GCW office, we hope to interview you and get a story, for subsequent publication, about this property and about your family. If you need other photographs of the above, either the size shown, or larger, or on postal cards, the GCW can, and will arrange for them. A reasonable charge of course will be made for these reproductions. Let us show you samples.

2nd Round Salk Polio Shots Being Completed

Dr. R. A. Clanton, Director of the Grenada County Health Department, advise that the second round of the Salk polio vaccination program has now been completed. Final tabulations show that 833 children received their first injection in April and 818 children received an injection in the second round. Seven hundred and thirty-six children in the county completed the two injections with 183 having only one injection, either in the first or second round of vaccinations. It is believed that this percentage ranks among the highest in the state.

No cases of poliomyelitis have been reported in the county this year. On the same date last year, two cases had been reported. There is no prospect of any additional vaccine for use through the health department for the next few months as the program outlined by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has been completed and no further plans have been made.

She will visit in Italy, Switzerland, Germany, Belgium, Holland and England. She plans to return home Sept. 10th. This is her first trip abroad.

Right and Wrong

Lesson for July 24, 1955

IT IS all very well to speak of the downfall of a nation, or of a national disaster, you can read in history books that such and such a nation finally was wiped out in such and such a year. Judah, for instance, ceased to exist as a nation after 586 B. C. But these are cold words. When a nation, a city, goes to smash, it means that homes are burned down, people are killed, business is bankrupt, nothing is "as Dr. Foreman usual" any more. There is no way a nation can crash without taking many individual lives and much happiness down with it.

Pulling Others Down

Out of the many lessons one can learn from the downfall of Judah and its capital Jerusalem is that innocent people suffer with the guilty and because of the guilty. Not every one in a wicked nation is wicked; some may have been doing their level best to keep the nation from going on the wrong track. Jeremiah is a prime example of this kind of man. An inspired prophet, he had been warning his fellow-citizens for years, as had Ezekiel and other prophets. But in the general disaster he suffered quite as much as anybody who was to blame for the whole mess. Jerusalem was swallowed, you might say, in two bites. The first was in 597 B. C. when the boy-king Jehoiachin was taken off to Babylon there to spend the rest of his days as a prisoner. Along with the kinglet went the royal family, the aristocracy, the top army officers, and a thousand skilled workers. Jerusalem and Judah were left to third-raters for eleven years; stupid, weak men who (to make a long story short) committed national suicide. Jeremiah suffered a great deal at the hands of these men. More than this he suffered in the final days of starvation and panic. (Of which more next week.) He was by far not the first, last or only innocent man to suffer in a nation's disaster. A good Christian like Niemoeller suffers for Hitler's madness; a saintly Christian like Kagawa suffers in Japan's defeat, even though both of them protested against their nation's policies.

Pulling Others Up

Needless to say, there is the other side of this. Just as the innocent are dragged down by the guilty, so the guilty are sometimes protected and benefited by the good. A nation by breaking God's laws pulls down many individuals who keep God's laws so far as they can; and on the other hand a nation that keeps God's laws pulls up many individuals who are quite indifferent to God. Take America at the present writing, for instance. The picture may have changed by the time you read this; but while it is being written our nation is at peace, prosperity blooms on every side, we are one of the two most powerful nations the world has ever seen. Who deserves the credit? Not all of us, surely! We talk about the heroism of our forefathers, immigrants and pioneers; but we are not very heroic. We talk about American smartness and know-how; but how few of us know how! We point with pride to our vast educational system — and we read the comic strips. We are happy to see egotism brought under control and fertility restored to waste land. But how many farmers were eager for such a program at first? We are proud of progress, when if it had been left to most of us, we would still be stuck in the mud.

The Price of Being Human

The truth is, and we cannot be reminded of it too often, that the human race is all tied together. Mankind is made for community. The human race is not like a tray of sand, where one grain can blow off without disturbing the others very much. It is more like a block of concrete; move one grain of that and it all moves. We are happy enough to be pulled up by the community or the nation when that is better than we are; so we have not too much to cry about when we are pulled down by the community or the nation when that is worse than we are. We can't have it both ways. We must not expect to benefit from the goodness of our good neighbors and at the same time not be hurt by the badness of our bad neighbors. It is the price of being human, that we are bonded together with countless others, and that with them we must often suffer the severe judgment of God.

APPEALS TO HIS OLD COMRADES
Bill Cunningham issues an appeal to his former comrades in arms to vote for and support him on August 2nd for nomination as Circuit Clerk of Grenada County.

Bill Cunningham is the only veteran candidate for Circuit Clerk. Bill is a disabled veteran and combat-wounded soldier of World War II, having volunteered for service with the Army January 27th, 1942. Bill volunteered for service at a time when he had four children and would have been draft-exempt had he so desired. After entering the Army he was trained in tanks at Fort Benning, Georgia and shipped overseas 10th October 1942, and entered North Africa with the invasion forces.

Bill was among the lead forces landing in French Morocco and fought throughout that campaign. After completing the Moroccan conquest, Bill moved with his unit to the Tunisian front where they were met by the furious onslaught of Rommel's famed Afrika Korps elite troops. Under the direction of General Patton the 2nd Armored Division, of which Bill was a member, met the Afrika Korps head-on in what proved to be the decisive battle of Tunisia, and during this fight, Bill was seriously wounded and blown from his tank by an 88 shell explosion direct on his tank. After recovery from this injury in a hospital, Bill moved on to Sicily with the 2nd Armored, and while fighting at Gela, Sicily had a second tank shot out from under him. His vehicle was hit again by 88 fire which destroyed and burned the tank. For his action here Bill was awarded the Silver Star for "gallantry in action." His citation reads— "having had his tank destroyed and burned — and under heavy artillery and small arms fire, without regard to his own personal safety stood by the road and attempted to deploy the other tanks in the column and point out enemy positions."

Bill Cunningham makes this statement to establish his background of service during War, and now appeals to the people of Grenada County to reward his service, by giving him the opportunity to serve them in Peace. Bill Cunningham has the ability, qualifications and courage to handle this office and he can assure all the people that he will handle the matter of voter registration in a proper, lawful and forceful manner, and that NO PERSON SHALL BE REGISTERED EXCEPT THEY BE DESERVING OF THE RIGHT UNDER THE STRICT PROVISIONS OF THE LAW, and that HE will PERSONALLY handle ALL registrations, and that no one else shall have his duty. Bill is a Baptist, active in church work, civic affairs and is a member of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Bill will work and serve to continue our Southern way of life. Talk to your friends, relatives and neighbors in his behalf. Your vote and influence will be deeply appreciated. —Pd. Advertisement

Johnson Reunion

On the 4th of July, 1955 the family of the late Mr. and Mrs. Cal Johnson held a Johnson Reunion at Red Hill Church of Christ, which was enjoyed by a large crowd of relatives from several different counties. A bountiful, delicious lunch was spread on a lengthy table, with ice drinks, which everyone did their part in sharing and enjoying the food. It was a wonderful happy day for all.

Preparing Food For The Freezer

Freezing is fun and is the simplest and least time consuming way to preserve foods. It keeps your foods fresh for long periods of time and preserves the color, flavor, and nutrient values of your meats, fruits, and vegetables.

In addition to being so easy to prepare for the freezer, many foods are ready to serve on a moments notice. This is time saving for the homemaker. There is a popular misconception about frozen foods however. Many people believe freezing improves the quality of foods, especially meats. This is not true of course. If you want to take a nice tender piece of meat from your freezer, it must be tender when it is put in. The same is true of fruits and vegetables. Vegetables and fruits must be at the right stage of maturity when frozen if you expect to serve a good product to your family months later. Over matured beans will be tough and stringy and under ripe fruits will be slightly sour or bitter when frozen. Select these foods when they are at just the right stage for eating and they will freeze perfectly.

Remember your freezer does only two things. It freezes your food and keeps it frozen. To get the best from your freezer put only the best into it. "Let no time be wasted on your produce may be." The lapse of time between the garden and freezer should be as short as possible for best results. Vegetables particularly can waste away their goodness rapidly at normal room temperature. Corn loses much of its sugar content if any delay is encountered before freezing; if greens are allowed to wilt, most of their goodness has vanished. If vegetables and fruits cannot be frozen immediately after harvest, be sure they are refrigerated and try to freeze them in the next 24 hours.

Foods should not be put into the freezer without adequate protection. Because of the low humidity or dryness of your freezer your foods must be packaged properly to prevent loss of moisture, color, flavor, and texture. The freezer packaging materials must be moisture-vapor proof. Don't use the trial and error method of packaging your food. Be sure the materials you buy are marked for freezing.

There are many types of freezer packaging materials. Glass containers have the advantage of transparency, but a great disadvantage of breakage. Tin containers may be used but neither glass nor tin stack (Continue to page 6)

WHY CHANGE SUPERVISORS

When You Already Have One Who Has A

Re-Elect BEN SANDERS

SUPERVISOR OF BEAT ONE

Your Support and Vote Will Be Appreciated.

Are truckers AFRAID of rail competition?

They must be, or they wouldn't be in such a dither about the President's Cabinet report. It says truckers and railroads should compete on an equal basis. That's all!

Yet truckers appear to fear that the Illinois Central and other railroads—if freed of certain old-fashioned regulations—can do such a wonderful job that they will run trucks off the highways.

Such talk is intended to arouse your pity. Don't believe it. Trucks form a basic part of America's transportation. They do many important jobs better than anyone else.

What really bothers the truckers is the idea that competition may force them to give up part of the rich living they enjoy on publicly-owned highways.

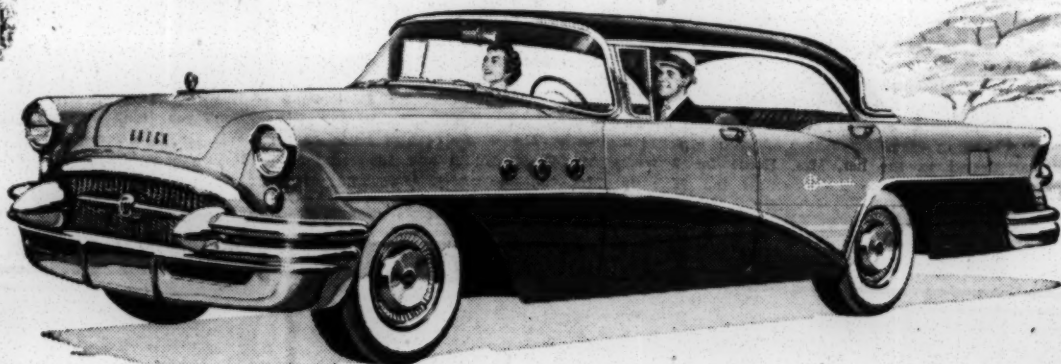

You will get more for your dollar when all transportation pays its own way—as the Illinois Central does. That makes sound sense. Let others earn the right to serve you, just as the Illinois Central has earned it for more than a century.

HOME HINTS

well in the locker or freezer.

It has been found that the plastic bags which require no heat seal are the most popular and do a very good job. Moistureproof vegetable parchment bags, heavy weight aluminum foil, plastic sheets and bags are also good.

The tub and cup shaped containers are very popular but take more space in your freezer than your square cartons.

Remember - use the type of packing material you like best but it must be made for the freezer to protect your foods properly.

Freezing will enable you to forget we have food seasons. You can eat a variety of foods from your freezer the year around. To get the best results there are a few rules you must observe.

Blanching is a most important rule. All vegetables should be blanched for several good reasons. If vegetables are not blanched the product taken from the freezer is poor, does not retain its flavor, color or texture. The reason is the action of enzymes which takes place in the vegetables.

However, if enzymes are destroyed prior to freezing, the fresh characteristics are preserved. Enzyme action is retarded by the blanching action and you get a product from your freezer which is as near fresh as possible. We do not blanch fruits, of course.

When peaches, apples, plums, apricots, pears and cherries are cut and exposed to air they have a tendency to discolor. In some cases when these are frozen and the package is opened it will discolor rapidly. This discoloration affects the appearance and flavor so it is advisable to add ascorbic acid. This is another name for Vitamin C. This acid may be purchased at most drug stores and requires less than a teaspoonful for each pint of syrup.

The best description for fruits ready for freezing is soft ripe fruit but not mushy. Tree and vine ripened fruits freeze best with the exception of pears. These may be picked and allowed to ripen.

Fruits may be sugar packed or syrup packed. In either case, be sure the sugar or syrup is thoroughly mixed with the fruit and covers it. This helps prevent discoloration. Cranberries and apples may be dry packed; that is, packed with no sugar.

Remember after you package your food the lower the temperature in your freezer the better your foods will be. At 0 degrees F. the loss of flavor, texture and color is very slow. At 10 degrees it is barely noticeable. At 40 F. there is no loss of nutrients in frozen foods at all. Keep the temperature in your freezer constant - don't let it fluctuate widely. With your home freezer you actually have a super market in your kitchen stocked with meats, fruits, vegetables and home baked foods.

Since freezing covers so many foods and methods of packing watch this column for more about freezing meats and baked foods.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Crick enjoyed a visit from all of their children and their families during the 4th.

The Mississippi River, lifeline of mid-America, was discovered in 1541 by Hernando DeSoto at a point popularly believed to be northeast of the present-day site of Clarksdale in Coahoma County.

Wholesalers and retailers have a $29 million investment here... employing over 16,295 Mississippians... and the brewing industry is the fourth largest taxpayer in the state, paying over $4 million a year. Legally regulated beer, the beverage of moderation, has grown to its present importance in Mississippi through public acceptance.

Rail oddities

DRIVING FROM THE NINTH FEE OF HIS HOME TOWN HOLY CROSS, A RAILROAD AGENT SAW HIS BACKY SLEET BALL DISAPPEAR THROUGH THE OPEN DOOR OF A BOX CAR IN A PASSING FREIGHT TRAIN. THE BALL, MARKED WITH THE OWNER'S NAME, WAS FOUND QUICKLY IDENTIFIED AND MAILED BACK TO HIM BY A FELLOW AGENT 300 MILES AWAY.

NEWS TRAVELS FAST... TRAVELS FAR TOO. A RECENT BROOKLET MADE UP OF ITEMS SELECTED FROM THESE RAIL ODDITIES CARTOONS WAS THE SUBJECT OF AN ARTICLE IN A NEWS-PAPER OF EAST VICTORIA PARK, A TOWN OF THE CITY OF PERTH IN WEST AUSTRALIA... ALMOST HALF WAY ROUND THE EARTH.

AN INDIAN UPRISING AGAINST AN EARLY RAILROAD UNDER CONSTRUCTION IN NEVADA IN THE 1870s REACHED A THRILLING CLIMAX WHEN AN EXCITED YOUNG BRAVE OF THE PAIUTE TRIBE ENGAGED THE LOCOMOTIVE IN PLEASANT CONFRONT. HE SUCCEEDED IN LASTING THE FIRE-BREATHING MONSTER IN AN EXHIBITION OF COURAGE AND SKILL THAT DESERVED A HAPPIER ENDING.

Reception

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the dining room for the wedding party and thirty close relatives who attended.

The bride's table, covered with a lace cloth, was centered with the tiered wedding cake, topped with miniature bride and groom and encircled with plumosi and pink blossoms, and silver candelabra holding pink tapers.

Assisting at the reception were Miss Sarah Billingsley of Winona.

Mrs. Richard Reid of Louisville and Miss Marie Turnage of Grenada and Portsmouth, Va.

For the wedding trip the bride wore a model of beige cotton with embroidered trim, brown accessories, and the strand from her wedding bouquet.

The couple will live in Norfolk, Virginia, where the groom is a graduate of the United States Naval Academy and is stationed at the Naval Base.

The groom also attended Mississippi State College where he was a member of Phi Kappa Alpha Fraternity and Phi Eta Sigma honor society and was valedictorian of his graduation class at Grenada High School.

The bride, who also has an outstanding educational record, has a Masters Degree in Art Education from George Peabody College for Teachers. She received her Bachelor of Fine Arts Degree from MSCW, where among other honors she was a member of Lantern, Torch, and Mortar Board and was president of Kappa Pi Honorary Fraternity. She was also an honor graduate of Winona High School.

"Farm of the Week" — Last Week

The handsome home named "The Pines" shown above, is the property of Mr. and Mrs. H. Townsend Salter of Montgomery County, located about a mile north of Duck Hill.

The builder of this house was Mr. Font Billups, who moved to Oklahoma City, Okla. before he had the opportunity to live in it. Mrs. Billups is a sister of Mrs. Clyde Tyler of Duck Hill.

Dr. and Mrs. Broadstreet and their two daughters, Miss Frances and Mrs. Oliver Wendell Holmes III, owned the home after the Billups family sold.

In 1942 the entire house which now has 14 rooms, with 4 baths was remodeled by Tom Cason of Philipp, one time manager and bookkeeper for Mr. Jim Townes of Minter City.

During World War II, when Camp McCain was active, General Maloney and family occupied the home. In 1944 Mr. and Mrs. Salter purchased the home, and have resided there longer than any others.

There are approximately 250 acres of land, half in timber. They have grade cattle and a registered Santa Gertrudis bull. Since they were allotted only 3 1/2 acres of cotton, they were unable to secure a tenant interested in so small a cotton crop.

The Salters have not devoted much time to crop farming, however Mr. Salter, a veteran oil man, has for the past 10 or 12 years struggled to find oil in Grenada County. Should he find oil here, it will not be sealed over as the major companies do, but would bring sudden and great wealth to Grenada County. His drilling outfit is near Providence in Beat 2 and work is in progress now. Mr. and Mrs. Salter are members of the Episcopal Church.

Boll weevils are again showing up in Mississippi cotton fields. They are coming out of hibernation in June and will continue to come out in July. Farmers must check their cotton regularly and carefully to protect the crop from the ravages of this pest, said A. G. Bennett, entomologist, Mississippi Agricultural Extension Service. When the weevil comes out of hibernation, the female punctures seven to eight cotton squares a day, and deposits an egg in each. During its lifetime, a female weevil will lay around 80 eggs. These eggs hatch into grubs, which eat out the inside of the square and destroy it. In 18 to 20 days, an adult boll weevil emerges from each punctured square and the cycle begins anew. For detailed information on controlling the boll weevil, farmers should see their local county agent.

'Disposable' Picnic Fun, Saves Work

Outdoor suppers are a wonderful change for the family. And cleverly managed, they are less work for the homemaker than meals prepared in the kitchen. For example, here's a care-free scheme for a picnic developed by the women's counselor at Johnson Motors to make it no work at all to whisk the family in your little outboard boat to a cool spot along the lake or river for a "fun feast."

The idea is a "disposable" picnic. You'll need a large paper hatbox, the kind that usually gathers dust on the shelf. Into it put picnic foods and beverages, each in a throw-away container or wrapping. Supply canned milk for youngsters. For adults, fill a well-washed, used milk carton with as many ice cubes as it will hold. Then pour over very strong, cool coffee and seal the carton with tape.

Take along prepackaged potato salad. Keep sandwich meats in their original store wrappings. Use either sliced cheeses or the little jars of spreads. Carry a jar of sandwich spread instead of butter. Pack tomatoes, celery and carrot sticks in your favorite household wrapping. And those little paper salt shakers are perfect for a "disposable" picnic.

Dessert? Of course. How about shortcake? Frozen fruits will defrost during the trip. At dessert time, open the container, pile fruit on sponge cake shells, and top with whipped cream sprayed from one of those popular squirt cans.

As the sun sets, pile used paper cloth, plates, napkins and forks, along with wrappings and jars, into the hat box, and stow the package into a trash receptacle provided by authorities. You'll go home empty-handed!

A STATEMENT FROM BRYAN BAKER

TO THE VOTERS OF DISTRICT NO. 1,
GRENADA COUNTY:

Four years ago I ran for Justice of the Peace. I promised then "Justice of Peace to All" and to-day "Justice of Peace to All" is the number one plank in my platform for re-election.

My record as Justice of the Peace is open to one and all. I have stood 100 percent for law enforcement and I have handled my court in a fair and impartial manner with no favorites to protect and none to persecute unjustly.

I realize there have been some who have criticized my term of office by claiming that too many who are brought before me have been found guilty. This is not true because 95 percent of those who come into J. P. Court themselves plead guilty. In all such guilty-plea cases where justice and common sense warranted I have assessed them with the minimum fine. There are also some who criticize the assessment of "costs". In that connection I would like to say that the costs in both civil and criminal cases are set out by the Legislature of Mississippi in the fee bill of 1952. The costs which I assess in my court have been and are considerably less than the law provides for and much lower than those assessed by other JP's in adjoining counties.

Finally I want to express my humble gratitude for the wonderful vote of confidence you gave me four years ago and will certainly express my continued appreciation for your confidence and support in re-electing me. The four years of actual experience which I have had qualify me to make you an even better Justice of the Peace for the next four years.

Again I pledge to you "JUSTICE OF OF PEACE TO ALL."

Sincerely your friend and servant,
BRYAN BAKER

Big And Little Sisters Compete In Singer Junior Dressmaking Contest

Sewing machines will hum this summer, as teen agers across the country prepare to enter the annual Junior Dressmaking Contest, sponsored by the Singer Sewing Machine Company.

There's gold and glamour in them that sewing machines. Prizes totaling more than $85,000 in scholarships, cash, sewing machines and other prizes are awaiting the national winners of the annual Junior Dressmaking Contest sponsored by the Singer Sewing Machine Company. The top young seamstresses of the country will come to New York in the Fall with their mothers, for a glamorous, all-expense trip, visit famous places like the U. N. building and the Stork Club, and be guests of honor at a special fashion show. Leading New York personalities will be present to vote the girls into first, second, third and fourth places, and Singer officials will award the final prizes. The Junior Dressmaking Contest is more exciting this year than ever before, for younger girls will compete with their older sisters for high honors. Girls 10 to 13 will enter their own junior contest; girls 14 to 17 will compete in the senior division.

Singer predicts that close to 60,000 girls will try for the big time and the big money. The girls may register at their local Singer Sewing Centers through August 20. To be eligible for the contest, dresses or casual wear must be made in the classes and completed by September 3. Each of Singer's 1,850 Sewing Centers in the United States and Canada will pick a senior and a junior winner, and these girls will receive complete seissors sets. The winning garments are sent to one of the 33 regional centers, and the best entry in each division at the regional level will receive a Singer Sewing Machine. Senior winners will receive, in addition, a $300 scholarship.

The winning garments then are sent to New York for judging by nationally prominent experts in the fields of sewing and fashion.

TO THE PEOPLE OF GRENADA COUNTY

A few days ago you saw statements in your local newspapers from two of my good opponents; one giving the background of my Veteran opponent, the other my opponent who has moved to Grenada County from Carroll County and tells you that he wants to preserve our Southern Way of Life in Grenada County.

In this statement I will try to let you know how I stand on both these matters and I will only state facts.

First, I will take the Veteran back to 1947 when the boys were coming home from the war. I was serving you as Circuit Clerk (having been elected without opposition) and I made the statement that if a Veteran came home and wanted the Circuit Clerk's Office I would not run against him. Two Veterans ran — because of my promise I did not. The people of Grenada County, however, did not elect either of the two Veteran Candidates but elected a young man who was not a Veteran and had never served one minute in the Armed Forces. Four years later the good people of Grenada County asked me to run again. I did and you honored me by defeating the man who had defeated the Veterans. I think this will prove to you that I am a friend of the Veterans.

Second, I will take my opponent from Carroll County who states he wants to preserve the Southern Way of Life in Grenada County and who also stated that he wanted you to inspect the Poll Books and see who had been denied the right to register. I would like to say that the Poll Books do not show the ones who were disqualified from registering. They only show the ones who qualified to register. I, too, invite you to inspect your Poll Books and I have no apology to make for whom ever you find on them, because every registrant qualified under the laws in existence at the time of this registration.

My friends, there is no group of elected officials in the State of Mississippi who know and understand our election problems better than the 82 Circuit Clerks in the State. We Circuit Clerks have stood alone, one man in each County, with our hands tied behind us trying hard to keep our voting in the hands of the good citizens and voters of Mississippi. In 1953 at the Circuit Clerk's Convention we decided that we could not stand alone any longer under the old voting law. We drafted the amendment that you voted on in 1954. We not only sponsored this amendment but we went to Jackson in January 1954 and stayed until we got this amendment through the Legislature and I would like to add that every Circuit Clerk's Office in Mississippi was represented at that meeting in Jackson. I attended this meeting as your representative. In March of 1955 after the Legislature had killed the old registration law, we, the Circuit Clerks of Mississippi, eighty two strong, went back to Jackson with the voting applications that we are now using. With some minor changes we got them through the Legislature. I will refer you to both of your Grenada County Representatives to verify this statement.

My friends, I know the problems of the Circuit Clerk's Office. I saw them grow from a bud. I know the new voting laws. I know what it takes to qualify a person to register and I know what disqualifies a person from registering.

I am qualified and have the courage to take care of any problem that may arise in your Circuit Clerk's Office in the next four years.

I make you this promise that if you elect me your Circuit Clerk I will use all my experience and training and resort to every section of the Constitution of Mississippi and the laws of the State to preserve and protect our Southern heritage and to keep our elections free from the influences that would destroy our right to elect to public office men and women who believe as we believe.

I want your vote. I want your influence. Get together, my friends, and settle the matter on August 2.

Your friend,

CHARLIE WORSHAM
(C. J. WORSHAM)
